GERMANY HAS 3 MONTHS TO REDUCE ARMY TO 150,000

Must Disarm All But 100,000 By January, Says Lloyd George

ASKED MORE TIME

Wanted 15 Months, But Allies Insist Upon Quick Action

MILLION IN ARMS

Dangerous Situation," Says British Premier— Reply To The Turks

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Spa, (via Guam) July 8.—Premier Lloyd George, on behalf of the Allied Peace Commissioners, today delivered an ultimatum to the German commissioners on the subject of disarmament.

Germany, the ultimatum says, can have until October 1 to reduce its military effectives to 150,000, and until January 1, 1921, to make a further reduction to 100,000, as required by the terms of the Peace Treaty.

The German commission, through General von Seeckt, had appealed for a minimum of fifteen months in which to accomplish the reductions.

THE GERMAN PLEA

Spa, July 7.—The following communique was issued by the Conference this evening:

"The Conference met this afternoon to receive the German reply with regard to the surrender of material and the reduction of effectives under the treaty.

"Dr. von Simson, German Minister for Foreign Affairs, again emphasised the extreme difficulties facing Germany in satisfying the allies, and the dangers threatening her.

"Nevertheless, he recognised the necessity for furnishing precise data regarding existing material and dates on which, in the German Government's opinion, arms and effectives might be reduced to the Treaty figures.

"He concluded by calling on General von Seeckt, Chief of the German General Staff, to speak on the subject.

ASKS 15 MONTHS

"General von Seeckt handed in a detailed note with regard to material. He proposed that a proportional reduction of material and effectives should be carried out within fifteen months."

"Mr. Lloyd George, replying, emphasised that several millions of rifles still remained in the hands not only of the troops but also of the population in Germany. Moreover there were thousands of machine guns, trench mortars and guns. Over a million soldiers were under arms, on various forms and pretexts.

DANGEROUS SITUATION

"It was beyond comprehension, Mr. Lloyd George declared, that such a dangerous and abnormal situation should be tolerated by any Government.

"The Allies could not permit a prolongation of that situation for another fifteen months. It must be settled by a vigorous effort in the shortest practicable time.

"The military, naval and air experts, he said, would meet tonight to investigate the Allies' and General von Seeckt's figures, after which, tomorrow, the Allies would announce their final decision."

REPLY TO TURKS

Spa, July 7.—The following official communique was issued by the Conference this afternoon.

"The Conference this morning examined the Turkish observations on the Peace Treaty.

"The Conference agreed that it was impossible to modify any of the principle clauses of the Treaty as requested by the Turkish Government, but appointed a small expert committee, empowered to consult with the military authorities and to draft a reply.

"This reply will deal with certain minor points on which the Turkish memorandum has established a reasonable case, and will require signature of the Treaty within ten days of presentation of the reply."

Senate Committee Delving Into Campaign Expenditures

Startling facts in connection with recent campaign expenditures are being uncovered by this investigating committee of U.S. Senators, headed by Senator Kenyon of Iowa. Campaign managers and their aides have told of expenditures that are enormous and would have been considered large for an election years ago. The committee which has charge of this investigation is composed of (left to right) Senator Pomerene, of Ohio; Senator Reed, of Missouri; Senator Edge, of New Jersey; Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, and Senator Spencer, of Missouri.

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, July 8.—The Senate Committee, appointed to investigate expenditures in the Presidential election campaign, will leave for St. Louis tonight to inquire into the Palmer campaign.

A movement among Democrats the purpose of which is to extend the Senate inquiry to the campaign funds for the general election is being launched. The resolution under which the Kenyon committee is operating does not include that field. It stops at the pre-convention expenditures.

It is understood President Wilson is enjoying the revelations and is anxious to have them continued for the more serious campaign.

"The people of the country appreciate what The New York World and Senator Borah have done in bringing about the Senate inquiry," says a member of the President's Cabinet, "but the investigation must not be allowed to stop.

"Chairman Cummings and Treasurer Marsh of the Democratic National Committee and Chairman Hays and Treasurer Upham of the Republican Committee, should be called before the committee and asked to open their books and show where the contributions for the fall campaign are coming from.

"That is the important question. The Democrats, I have been told, are ready for such a showdown."

DIET MEMBER DECLARES THAT WHOLE WORLD DISLIKES JAPAN

Demands To Know Whether Government Is Prepared For "Critical" Times

PREMIER MAKES DENIAL

Washington Reports Japan Took Saghalin To Pay For Nikolaievsk

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Tokio, July 8.—A member of the Diet, speaking against the proposed budget, today made a declaration to the effect that Japan was "disliked by the whole world."

The member demanded to know whether or not the Government had a definite policy capable of taking the Empire through the present "critical period" in its career.

Premier Hara, in reply, declared that he did not believe that Japan was disliked; on the contrary, he believed that his country was generally regarded with cordiality and considered by progressive nations as one of the five great Powers in the world.

SAGHALIN OCCUPATION

Washington (via Guam) July 8.—It was reported here today that Premier Hara, in the course of a speech before the Diet yesterday, that the occupation of Saghalin was considered as "a satisfactory settlement of the Nikolaievsk massacre."

COX NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION ON 44TH BALLOT

(Reuter's Service)

San Francisco, July 6 (delayed).—Governor Cox was nominated for the Presidency by acclamation on the forty-fourth ballot of the Democratic National Convention.

The withdrawal of Attorney-General Palmer after the thirty-eighth ballot, thus releasing his votes, marked the turning point of the Convention.

Governor Cox immediately forged ahead until he reached 568 votes on the forty-third ballot, to Mr. McAdoo's 410.

It is anticipated that Governor Cox's nomination will strongly counteract Senator Harding's influence in Ohio.

The legislation for which Governor Cox is best known includes the model workmen's compensation law, the child-labor law, and the Ohio school code.

Klotz Silk Co., Big U.S. Firm, Goes To The Wall

(U. S. Naval Radio)

New York, (via Guam) July 8.—Announcement was made here today to the effect that the Klotz Throwing Company, a large local silk importing and manufacturing concern having branches in Japan and China, had passed into the hands of trustees.

The concern, which operates fifteen large plants in the New England and Middle Atlantic States, is said to have assets of $11,000,000 (exclusive of plants) and liabilities of approximately $8,000,000.

Lack of sufficient liquid assets to meet demands and the collapse of silk values in Japan, causing cancellations of orders, are said to be responsible for the trouble.

FALLS DOWN LIFT SHAFT AT KALEE AND INTO LOBBY

Workman May Recover After Drop Of Two Stories At Local Hostelry

Falling two stories down the elevator shaft at the Grand Hotel Kalee, a workman alighted on his head and shoulders on the cage, which was at the ground floor and hurtled through the open grill to the floor of the crowded lobby. He was badly bruised and it is feared that his skull is fractured but he was still alive with a chance for recovery last night.

The man was an employe of the contracting firm of Scott, Harding and Company who have been making repairs on the Kalee lift for several weeks. He was suspended in the shaft, while he worked, by a heavy rope which he believed to be sufficiently strong to bear his weight. The rope suddenly parted and the man was precipitated to the ground floor.

The accident occured at 8:45 Thursday evening, just as many of the guests were coming into the lobby from the dining room. It created a great deal of excitement but the man was cared for promptly and was rushed to the Shantung Road Hospital for treatment.

The speakers included the Bishops of Zanzibar, Kampala, Grahamstown and Madras.

FOREIGNERS ARE CRITICISED FOR SHIELDING LAW BREAKING AIDES

British Assessor Condemns Men Who Abet Servants In Evading Penalty

CHAUFFEUR IMPRISONED

Three Months In Jail Is Sentence For Man In Manslaughter Case

Foreigners who shield lawbreaking servants were severely censured yesterday by British Assessor Grant Jones in the Mixed Court when three chauffeurs were fined for ignoring traffic signals and one sent to prison for manslaughter.

The court's remarks were inspired by the trial of a Chinese chauffeur who was fined $50 for ignoring traffic signals. The driver narrowly escaped colliding with a car in which Dr. H. C. Patrick was riding on Szechuen Road at the approach to the Soochow Creek Bridge.

Dr. Patrick testified that the driver was given the right of way by the traffic officer and started to cross the bridge. He heard a shout and looking to the right saw another car approaching, in spite of the signals of the traffic officer, and a collision was narrowly avoided.

CALLS CONSTABLE

"I alighted," said the doctor, "and a young man who was seated beside the chauffer of the other car asked me not to make any trouble over the affair. In the meantime I had summoned a constable and instructed him to report the matter.

"It is typical of these people," said the Assessor. "A decent man should be pleased to see his servant punished for a breach of the law, but not so with people of this sort."

Two other chauffeurs who ignored traffic signals, one at Range and Szechuen Roads and the other at Nanking and Chekiang Roads, were fined $10 each.

Three months imprisonment was the penalty imposed on a chauffeur who caused the death of a boy on North Thibet Road a few days ago, the case being heard before British Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Loh.

STORY OF EYEWITNESS

Peter Veit, inspector for the health department, was the principal witness in the case. He said he was standing in front of his office at 200 North Thibet Road and witnessed the accident.

The boy was crossing the road and was carrying a plank. There was little traffic on the road at the time and he saw no ricshas in the vicinity of the tragedy.

The boy was struck by the car but the wheels of the machine did not pass over his body and the driver made a quick turn in an effort to avoid the accident. The witness said the chauffeur offered every assistance in his power to his victim but it was unavailing and the boy died five minutes later.

Seized Russian Steamers May Be Put On Runs Between Japan, Shanghai And Manila

Sikh Police Replaced By Chinese Crews On Seized Vessels—Men Ejected By Settlement Officers Loyal To Vladivostok Management

Crews of the Russian Volunteer Fleet steamers Penza, Simferopol and Georgi, forcibly removed from the vessels on Thursday by police of the International Settlement acting under instructions of Mr. V. Grosse, Russian Consul-General, continue to refuse to recognise any authority of Russian consular officials over them or over the vessels. It was reported yesterday, after the Sikh police, who were placed aboard the three ships, had been replaced by Chinese crews, that the vessels are to be put on runs between Japan ports, Shanghai and Manila.

Representatives of the three crews, that since the seizure have been cared for in quarters in the French Concession, said last night that the men mean to adhere to the stand taken at a general meeting of men and officers of the Russian Volunteer Fleet that was held on May 26 after M. Feodoroff had proclaimed himself director and manager of the fleet.

FEODOROFF'S SCHEME

M. Feodoroff formerly merely was agent of the volunteer fleet, at Tarupa, Japan, where he also held the post of Russian Consul, and when he announced that he would not recognise the authority of a newly elected directorate over the fleet at Vladivostok and proclaimed himself managing director he sought to win over to his purpose the men and officers working the vessels. He did this by making liberal offers of wages and in other ways. It was then that the meeting of the men and officers of the fleet was called and in response to Feodoroff's proposals the following reply was telegraphed to him:

THE ANSWER

[illegible] and, therefore, we live over with her all her troubles and happiness. We do not intend to live abroad. The Volunteer Fleet belongs to the Government. All of its administrative organs must be on Russian territory. The attempts of irresponsible groups and persons to manage the fleet from abroad—to derive their living from it—are criminal.

"If you are a citizen of your country you must stop seizing Russian boats in foreign ports; you must release those which have been taken by you; you must come to Vladivostok and recognise our people's provisional Government which is in contact with central Russia. All the incidents will then be liquidated. We guarantee it." It is this declaration to which the men from the three seized ships declare they will adhere firmly and it is understood that this decision led to the placing of Chinese crews on the three ships yesterday. It has not yet been announced when the vessels will set sail for Japan.

CONTROLS FIVE

Up to the present time M. Feodoroff is known to have brought under his control at least five of the twenty-odd vessels of the Russian Volunteer Fleet and he may have a sixth including the three taken over here in Shanghai. The passenger ship Tobolsk and the Omsk both are held at Kobe. The last named was intercepted while bound from America with 12,000 tons of cargo. The whereabouts of the Simbirsk, which sailed from Shanghai June 9 after having been held for a month, is not known here.

Vessels of the Volunteer Fleet that are still under control of the [illegible] Vladivostok Government are as follows:

[illegible] Saratov, Moskva, Stavropol, Admiral Zavoiko, Orel, Yelmar, Chifu, Kishiniev, Nijni-Novgorod and the Tver.

Chinese Business Interests See War Threat Near Here

Big Commercial Guilds Send Plea To Tuchun Li, Tuchun Lu And Commissioner Ho

Leading Chinese commercial interests in Shanghai are viewing with the keenest alarm developments in the controversy between the two armed political factions at Peking and in the menace of open warfare at the capital are seeing grave danger of trouble in quarters close at hand.

Recent reports of troop movements—at Nanking, at Hangchow, and also here in Shanghai—are looked upon by the Chinese commercial bodies with the utmost suspicion, for the fear is felt that while the capital is in the grip of fear with the threat of conflict hanging over it the time may be seized upon by the conflicting political interests of Kiangsu and Chekiang to settle long standing differences.

DESPATCH TELEGRAM

The feeling of the Chinese guilds and commercial bodies is reflected in a telegram that was despatched yesterday to Tuchun Li Shun of Kiangsu at Nanking to Tuchun Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang at Hangchow and to He Fung-ling, Defense Commissioner of Shanghai. The organisations that signed the messages are Native Bankers Guild, Gold Merchants Guild, Silk Merchants Guild, Tea Merchants Guild Chinese Cotton Millowners Association, Foreign Piece Goods Merchants Association, Foreign Sundry Goods Merchants Association, Metal Merchants Guild, Export Merchants Guild, Coal Merchants Guild, Timber Merchants Guild, Silver Smelters Guild Flour Merchants Guild, Egg Traders Guild and the Chinese Bankers Association.

TEXT OF MESSAGES

A translation of the text of the three messages sent out is as follows:

"It is recently reported in the local press that troops of Nanking have been sent to Quinsan, those of Shanghai have been sent to Soochow, and those of Hangchow, to the boundaries of Soochow and Shanghai. Of course these reports cannot be taken as entirely true. But where there is smoke there is fire which we have reasons to believe.

"Since the sudden fall in exchange, the Shanghai merchants suffer to a great extent. Their hardships are doubled by the scarcity of rice now available. Should there be any warfare, the people would be driven to the distress unimaginable.

SO FAR, SO GOOD

"Your Excellencies have so far maintained the peace and good order of the two provinces Kiangsu and Chekiang, and served both the Government and people faithfully. Surely there will be no unusual actions on your part. However, there have arisen rumors. We have to appeal earnestly to you to take a very calm attitude towards same by not allowing troops to move from the original places where they are stationed. This is the only way to stop any rumors and to pacify the people."

TROOPS ALL READY

British League Of Help Meets With Big Success

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 7.—Following on the meeting presided over by the Lord Mayor of London on June 30, the British League of Help, which was formed for the purpose of arranging for British towns to adopt centers in the French devastated areas, has been receiving the most encouraging reports.

Already fifty provincial centers are arranging meetings to consider the question of adoption.

It is interesting that one adoption already effected is purely agricultural, being undertaken by the agricultural center of Cirencester.

It is expected that this lead will be followed by other agricultural centers.

Directs Labor Of France

Probably the most powerful man in France today is M. Jouhaux, President and General Secretary of the Amalgamated Union of France. France, in the throes of a labor crisis which seriously threatens the life of the country, anxiously awaits the decision of Jouhaux. The "Samuel Gompers" of France is greatly admired throughout that country for his clear views on labor activities and his pacifist attitude in labor troubles.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, July 8.—The District Court tomorrow will hear the application of Chen Chin-tao, the Minister of Finance, for judgment, ordering the Sincere Company to pay over the $300,000 loaned to the company by Dr. Wu Ting-fang, to the Ministry instead of to Dr. Wu Ting-fang.

TUAN FORCES HSU'S HAND; HAS ENEMIES TURNED OUT

Throws Two Divisions Into Peking And Surrounds The Palace

PRESIDENT YIELDS

Tsao Kun Loses Title; Wu Pei-fu Removed And Under Fire

TRIAL IS ORDERED

Tuan Promises Not To Fight, But Orders Troops Southward

BY NATHANIEL PEFFER
Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)
(Late Bulletin)

Peking, June 9.—Mandates have been sealed taking away Tsao Kun's title but keeping him in office and removing General Wu Pei-fu outright and ordering him to face an investigation for disobedience.

President Hsu yielded after Marshal Tuan Chi-jui had thrown detachments from two divisions around the palace. The President desired to resign, but advisers prevented this action, though urging him to yield.

TUAN FOR PREMIER

The question of the Premiership is in abeyance, but present indications are that Tuan will be nominated later.

The President has exacted, [illegible] for signing the mandates, Tuan's promise that he will withdraw troops from the front and that there will be no fighting; but it is understood today that Tuan is moving most of his First Division southward toward the area in which General Wu Pei-fu's forces are located.

Traffic is completely stopped on the Pihan Line. There have been numerous defections of supporters of the Chihli faction to Tuan, including the Presidential guard commanded by Chiang Kwei-ti and Tuchun Chao Ti of Honan.

CHANG A MYSTERY

Chang Tso-lin's plans are unknown, but the Japanese are bringing pressure to prevent him sending troops southward to fight Tuan.

It is virtually certain that Tuan is getting Japanese help, and it is known that he obtained several millions to pay to the troops before the recent moves were made.

It is known that Chang Tso-lin has brought a great force inside the Great Wall and is moving nearer. News from the region of Paotingfu is confused but apparently there has been no fighting.

A warning from the Legations, sent to President Hsu, has remained unanswered.

MARTIAL LAW DUE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, July 9.—A draft mandate was submitted to the Cabinet esterday afternoon, but they did ot consider that it was likely to acate Marshal Tuan Chi-jui. The draft was thereupon returned o the President, who this morning laced his seal on a new mandate, ll missing General Wu Pei-fu and also depriving General Tsao Kun of his rank, but allowing him to retain his present command.

Marshal Tuan Chi-jui has undertaken to prevent fighting if the mandate is issued, but he is still continuing his warlike preparations.

The First Frontier Defense Division left for Liuliho last night.

Martial law was expected in Peking today.

The Anfuites assert that the 15th Division, General Feng Kuo-chang's former body-guard, will support Marshal Tuan Chi-jui. The attitude of these troops in the crisis is problematical.

RELIEF IN CAPITAL

The relief created in Peking by the news that General Chang Tso-lin had detrained at Tientsin, was offset today by a telegram from Tientsin, stating that Chang Tso-lin left for Mukden at two o'clock this morning.

It is believed that General Chang will return to Peking with sufficient troops to cut off the belligerents in the event of the Anfuites going on to Paotingfu to attack General Wu Pei-fu.

TO DESTROY PEKING?

The Anfuites threaten, in the event of the defeat of their troops, that they will return to Peking and lay the city in ruins. This is effective propaganda in the present state of nervousness in the capital.

Whilst little is heard of the movements of General Wu Pei-fu's troops, owing to the suspension of traffic on the Pehan line, it is reported that his advance guards have reached Kao Pei-tien. Thus some thirty miles now separates the opposing forces.

On the whole the situation is easier today, though the Chinese are convinced that fighting is unavoidable.

LEGATIONS ACT

The members of the Diplomatic Corps yesterday discussed the situation and afterwards sent a note to the Government, hoping that armed troops would not be allowed in Peking, that aeroplanes would not be allowed to bomb the city and that there would be no fighting within ten miles of the city.

The note points out that the Government will be held responsible for any loss of life or property by foreigners, and concludes with the hope that the President will be able to exercise humanitarian principles.

JAPAN THREATENS

Amongst the many rumors that have been current in the capital during the day is the report that General Chang Tso-lin has been informed that, if he withdraws his troops from Manchuria, the Japanese will be forced to exercise greater control there with troops recently brought from Siberia, owing to the prevalence of Bolshevism in those regions.

CHANG IS WAITING

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, July 8.—General Chang Tso-lin is apparently awaiting developments in the vicinity of Tientsin.

It is very significant that Tsao Ju-lin and Lu Chang-yu visited the President this morning and requested the appointment of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui to the Cabinet. The President refused.

At a meeting of Anfu military officers this morning Marshal Tuan Chi-jui appointed General Tuan Chi-kwei Commander-in-Chief of the punitive expedition against General Wu Pei-fu and Marshal Tuan's other opponents, with General Chin Yun-peng as second in command, a post which Chin Yun-peng will naturally decline.

DEMANDS ARRESTS

Marshal Tuan Chi-jui has since demanded the arrest of General Wu Pei-fu and General Tsao Kun and also the latter's brother, General Tsao Yin, who has bottled up the Second Frontier Defense Division at Tsinanfu by occupying Tehchow Arsenal, and also that these generals shall be handed over to him for punishment.

It is reported that Marshal Tuan Chi-jui intends to surround the Presidency and force the President to give an official complexion to the so-called punitive expedition, if his demands are not otherwise conceded.

WILL BOMB TOWNS

Meanwhile the Anfu Club have obtained large funds from the Ministry of Communications, with which they have sweetened the temper of the Frontier troops. It is also reported that they have obtained funds from outside sources.

The Anfuites announce their intention to use six aeroplanes to bomb Paotingfu. Though they may be able to seize the aeroplanes at Nanyuan, it is doubtful whether they will be able to find the necessary pilots.

The Chinese believe that conflict is unavoidable.

FRENCH DRAFTS DROP

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, July 6.—There was a further break in Paris drafts on London yesterday, in expectation that there will be some favorable development at Spa.

The rate opened at 45.45, as against the closing price of 46.77 on Saturday.

The improvement had a stimulating effect on French Government stock on the London market.

MAKES NAURU ISLAND SCHEME LEAGUE MATTER

Commons Votes "Yes" On Cecil Amendment For Phosphate Cache

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 6.—Before the standing committee of the House of Commons which is considering the Nauru Island agreement bill, Lord Robert Cecil today moved an amendment, making the agreement subject to the provisions of Article 22 of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

Sir J. D. Rees (Unionist) asked if it were seriously contended that, when a mandate was granted to a great nation for the administration of a territory, it must come to the Council of the League for approval for any action taken.

OPPOSES CHANGE

Lieut.-Colonel Leslie Wilson, who is in charge of the bill, disagreed with the amendment. He said that, if the Government accepted it, the acceptance would involve an admission that the agreement did not accord with the treaty.

The agreement was signed by the Prime Ministers of Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand, and the Treaty of Peace bore the same signatures. To accept such an amendment Col. Wilson said, would suggest that those gentlemen were not prepared to carry out the Peace Treaty. This amendment, he submitted, was unnecessary.

AMENDMENT CARRIES

A long discussion followed. On a division the amendment was carried by 16 votes to 15.

Note: Article 22 of the League Covenant, which deals with mandates, states, inter alia:

"The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of the development of the people, the geographical situation of the territory, its economic conditions and other similar circumstances.

"In every case of mandate, the mandatory shall render to the Council an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge. The degree of authority, control or administration to be exercised by the mandatory shall, if not previously agreed upon by the members of the League, be explicitly defined in each case by the Council.

"A permanent Commission shall be constituted to receive and examine the annual reports of the mandatories and to advise the Council on all matters relating to the observance of the mandates."

RICE STEADY AT $14; FEW STRIKES

Labor Situation Is Improving Rapidly In Settlement Police Report

With rice steady at an average price of $14 a picul, the labor situation in Shanghai Settlement is improving rapidly, according to police reports yesterday. The average price for rice was determined by investigation at 16 different shops. There are instances where the price is below the figure named but $14 is considered an accurate average.

Only one strike is now in progress in the Settlement. Six hundred employes of the Shanghai Dock and Engineering Company are standing out for an increase of 10 cents a day, a raise of about 30 percent.

Sixty ricsha makers went on strike on Wednesday for a few hours, demanding a 30 percent increase in wages. They compromised, however, when the employers offered them one day's vacation each month.

A meeting of the shoemakers was held on Thursday and it was decided to call a strike of the craft in the event that wages are not increased by June 16.

Auto Tires, Rubber Gloves And Ricsha Tubes Found In Raid

Coolie Accused Of Stealing Quantities Of Stock From Dunlop's

A coolie employed at the Dunlop Rubber Company, Ltd., 20 Kiukiang Road, decided to go into business for himself and so he removed a goodly portion of the firm's stock to his residence in Sinza Road. Detective Sergeant MacDermott found the articles and the coolie yesterday and took them to the Central Police station. The accused will probably be charged in the Mixed Court today.

Automobile tires, ricsha accessories, rubber gloves and golf balls were included in the loot found in the coolie's house by the detective.

Remove Obstacles To Justice Court

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 7.—The obstacle which had hitherto prevented the creation of an International Court of Justice has been overcome.

The Jurists Advisory Committee of the League of Nations, sitting at the Hague, has adopted a plan whereby judges will be selected by the Council and Assembly of the League of Nations, voting separately.

If agreement is not reached, provision is made for a joint mediation committee, or for finally filling up the vacancies by judges already selected.

The result, which was not possible of attainment at the Hague Conference in 1907, was only rendered possible today by the League of Nations machinery.

ASSESSOR GIVEN PRESENTS ON EVE OF HOME LEAVE

Officers Of Mixed Court And Commercial Men Show Friendship

Two gifts were presented yesterday to Mr. Grant Jones, British Vice Consul and Mixed Court Assessor, on the eve of his departure on home leave. One presentation was made at the Union Club and the other at the Mixed Court.

At the Union Club the assessor was the guest of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce at tiffin. He was presented with a handsome silver cup.

At the Mixed Court Inspector Wheeler, on behalf of the officers of the Court, presented the assessor with a case of pipes. He expressed the hope that promotion awaited the assessor and declared that the gift was a token of the esteem in which Mr. Grant Jones is held here. Magistrate Li was on the bench when the presentation was made.

In replying to Mr. Wheeler,

ASSESSOR'S THANKS

Mr. Grant Jones said:

"Inspector Wheeler, and Officers of this Court, I thank you most sincerely for your gift and the good wishes that accompany it. But more than all I thank you for seven years of strenuous and loyal service not merely towards myself personally but to the community in general. During most of those years there was a horror of war upon us and the participation of China in the war added greatly to your duties and difficulties. It is to be remembered that in this Court we have a body of men, seconded from the local police force, set to perform duties which in other Courts are discharged by, or under the direction of trained lawyers, and those duties are just as thoroughly and efficiently performed. Again I thank you and bid you goodbye."

Bushby To Pay $250 Damages To Man He Wounded In Sampan

Graham Bushby, who is under sentence of 18 months imprisonment and deportation for shooting a sampan coolie, was called before Mr. G. W. King, registrar of the British Court, yesterday and ordered to pay his victim $250 compensation.

Mr. Brown appeared for the plaintiff and Bushby conducted his own case.

After a certified copy of Bushby's conviction, to prove that he caused the man the injuries, had been admitted as evidence, complainant went into the witness box and stated that in consequence of his wounds he was unable to work.

Mr. King: How much did you make a month prior to this affair?

Witness: Twenty dollars.

Mr. King: Is that $20 a month clear profits? Yes.

Cross-examined by Bushby: Do you own the sampan? Yes.

Have you since hired the sampan out to another man? Yes.

How much does he pay you for its hire? One dollar a month.

Is that the usual rate of hire? Yes.

Then a sampan man's wages are $19 a month? What I earned was about $19 a month.

How long will it be before you return to work? I don't know.

Bushby: Yet you said in the other court that you would be fit to work in four or five months.

Inspector Thomas Mellows of the River Police went into the witness box and produced a doctor's certificate which stated that in consequence of his injuries it may became weeks or months before the man will be fit to work, but eventually he should be quite all right.

Pamphlet Memorial To Doctor Richard

As a memorial to the late Dr. Timothy Richard an interesting booklet has been issued in Chinese by the Christian Literature Society for China and is being widely circulated. On the front cover is an excellent picture of the Society's offices at 143 Szechuen Road and on the inside the cover appears a fac-simile of a letter of Mr. Huang Kai-wen, the President's Master of Ceremonies, in which it is set forth that the President has donated the sum of $500 to a fund being raised.

Opposite this is a fine photograph of Doctor Richard wearing the two decorations he received from the Chinese Government. Then follows an excellent map of China showing the travels of Doctor Richard. Next comes a laudatory preface which was written without solicitation by Tuchun Li Shun of Kiangsu. Following this is a review of the life of Doctor Richard with a list of his works, both in Chinese and English, and also titles of the books written by Mrs. Richard.

"BABY SHIP" IS READY TO SAIL FOR PETROGRAD

American Red Cross Taking Children From Vladivostok; Start This Month

(From The Siberian Commission, American Red Cross)

Vladivostok, June 16.—The American Red Cross expects to send a steamer from Vladivostok, leaving this port in July, taking home the Petrograd Childrens' Colony which for nearly two years has been under its care.

The colony was taken under the sheltering arm of the Red Cross in the early winter of 1918. In May, 1918, owing to hunger in Petrograd, a committee of parents decided to send the children to the Siberian cities, where food was plentiful.

An organisation called "The Union of Cities," operating in and around Petrograd, joined with the parents committee and Government Department of Education in equipping several large trains and taking the children from Petrograd to the Ural Mountain district of Siberia. Thence they came to Vladivostok.

The Red Cross has chartered the Japanese steamer Yomei Maru, which is now being outfitted near Kobe and is expected to come to Vladivostok early in July to take the children by way of San Francisco and the Panama Canal to Petrograd.

Since the American Red Cross has taken charge of the colony the children have been housed, fed, clothed and given systematic education, this education being a continuation of their grammar school and high school training, already begun in Petrograd.

Many of the teachers who came from Petrograd in 1918 with the colony are still with it and will be returned to Petrograd on the Yomei.

Explains Reduction Of Duty On Wines

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 6.—In announcing in the House of Commons today that he proposed to reduce the ad valorem duty on sparkling wines from 50 to 33 1/3 percent, Mr. Austen Chamberlain said that the decision was due to the fact that the 50 percent duty had been calculated on the basis of an average value of imported wine of 57/6 per gallon; whereas the average value on which the duty would be charged would probably be under 40/-. It was also due to sympathy for France.

The concession would entail a loss of £400,000 revenue in a full year. He estimated that the 33 1/3 percent duty would produce £800,000. The amendment to the budget reducing the duty was carried by 261 votes to 96.

TAN YEN-KAI HAS RESTORED ORDER

New Chief In Hunan Soon Has District At Peace; Contributes Rice

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, July 6.—News has been received in Hankow that General Tan Yen-kai, the southern military leader who figured so prominently in the recent Hunan coup, is keeping on very good terms with the people at Changsha and Yochow.

General Tan recently paid a visit to Yochow after its evacuation by the Northern troops under General Chang Ching-yao, and spent two days conferring with the people and missionaries there. He had a conference with the local gentry, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and the various foreign missionaries.

THANKED THE MISSIONS

He personally offered his sincere thanks and warm appreciation of the spirit that prompted the foreign missionaries to risk their lives and properties at that most dangerous hour to save his own nationals from ruthless treatment at the hands of General Chang Ching-yao's troops.

Being in great sympathy with the people of Yochow, General Tan generously contributed 5,000 piculs of rice to the suffering refugees at Yochow, of which there are about twenty thousand.

ORDER RESTORED

Peace and order has been perfectly restored in Yochow by the Southern intruders. General Tan Yen-kai and General Chao Heng-ti posted six different orders in the city, urging the people to resume their respective lines of business and not to cause unnecessary fears and rumors among themselves.

In return for his generous gift and kind treatment, the people of Yochow expressed their thanks by giving him a fire-cracker procession on the occasion of his departure from Yochow to Changsha, the provincial capital.

DISBANDED 7TH DIVISION

All the troops of the Seventh Division, formerly under General Chang Ching-yao and recently transferred to General Wang Chan-yuan of Wuchang, have all come to Wuchang within the last two days.

They were forced to surrender their arms before their entry into the province of Hupeh, after they had been routed from Yochow by the Southerners.

General Wang has already spent $300,000 in disbanding these routed troops, but finds it necessary to have another $300,000 in order to have the remnant sent home. According to his estimate there are still 13,000 soldiers to be disbanded.

CELEBRATE JULY 4TH

A large and representative gathering of Americans and foreign friends in Hankow assembled at the American Consulate-General at Hankow to celebrate the American Independence Day.

An eloquent address was given by Mr. P. S. Heintzleman, American Consul-General at Hankow. The speaker gave a general review of America's aims and purposes in the World War, and in the peace following its termination. Mr. Heintzleman also paid generous tribute to the part Great Britain played in the war, to the effectiveness of the British Navy, to General Pershing, to the American army and Navy and other factors in the allied victory.

The ceremony took place in the large reception room at the American Consulate-General, which was gaily decorated and prettily hung with flags. Among the guests present were the Consuls of all the nations represented in Hankow; a representative of General Wang Chan-yuan, Military Governor of Hupeh; the District and Mixed Court Magistrates of Hankow; officers from the various war vessels in port, and from the Japanese Barracks of Hankow.

A baseball game was played between a local team and men of the American Navy in Hankow in the afternoon. The evening program was carried out in the Victoria Cinema, where there was full attendence.

PEOPLE WANT PEACE

The Chinese Chambers of Commerce of Hankow and Wuchang sent a telegram last week to the authorities at Peking and Canton, urging upon them the immediate necessity of the healing of the internal breach in China.

Unless domestic hostilities are halted, the message said, this commercial metropolis in the heart of China will experience the same embarassing situation as that in the 1911 Revolution, which tore the city of Hankow to pieces.

Free Philippines, Lose Far Eastern Trade, Says Judge

San Francisco, (via Guam) July 3.—Judge Zard (?) of Manila, addressing the Foreign Trade Conference here today, declared that the granting of independence to the Philippines at this time would mean the death of American trade in the Far East.

Furthermore, he said, it would mean the rapid passing of the Filipino race, which would soon be completely smothered by Japanese and Chinese immigrants.

Rates Of Interest Confusing To Court

Money Lender And Patron Are Heard Before British Registrar Here

In the British Supreme Court yesterday, the Registrar, Mr. J. W. King, heard a case in which Bishan Singh, a watchman, sued C. M. Castilho, commission agent, of East Hanbury Road, for $171 money lent. Mr. J. G. Priestwood appeared for plaintiff. Before evidence was heard, the Registrar said:

"Castilho, it has been reported to me that there was a certain amount of difficulty in serving this summons and that you were very rude. The Marshal was only doing his duty and it appears that you were only just outside the provisions of the Order in Council, or you might have been charged with contempt of court."

LOANED ON NOTE

Plaintiff said that he lent defendant $150 on a promissory note, defendant requiring the money to get cargo out of the Customs. He had not repaid anything. Subsequently witness lent him a further $20 on a promissory note for $21. Witness charged 4 percent interest.

Defendant said that he only had $90 out of the $150 and the $20 was for interest for the month.

Plaintiff denied this.

The Registrar: One of these men is lying. It is the old, old tale.

DEFENDANT'S STORY

Defendant again said that he only had $90 and the arrangement was that he should pay back $110 in a month to square it. Otherwise, he was to pay $150 in five months at $30 a month.

The Registrar: I cannot work out what the interest would be.

Defendant said that he would consent to judgment, to save argument.

The Registrar: Yes, but must the Court necessarily support that? Here is a man says he only received $90, yet consents to judgment for $171. Well, what is the interest?

50 PERCENT INTEREST

Mr. Priestwood: Fifty percent has been held not to be unreasonable.

Defendant: I had a guarantor, Mr. Silva, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, who received half of the $90.

Mr. Priestwood: Oh, I see. An arrangement between the two of you to raise the wind?

Defendant: Nothing of the sort.

The case was adjourned till Tuesday for the attendance of Silva.

"30,000 JEWS TO PALESTINE EVERY YEAR"

Speaker At Zionist Caucus Urges It; Deplores The Ukraine Massacres

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 7.—The World Zionist Conference opened in London today, 250 delegates being present. The principal subjects of discussion were the colonisation of Palestine and the rapid organisation of immigration.

The chairman, Mr. Sokolow, speaking in Hebrew, declared that Jews had regained their place among the nations of the world. Millions in Eastern Europe, he said, had been facing death in "the seven circles of hell."

DEPLORES MASSACRES

"For the multi-massacres of the Ukraine," he declared, "not Heaven nor the mercy of the angels could find palliation. Nebuchadnēzzar was a noble man compared with these murderers."

The audience rose solemnly to its feet, thus impressively endorsing the Chairman's views.

Mr. Usishkin, vice-president of the Zionist Commission, said that at least 30,000 Jews must be settled in Palestine every year for a few years, and that £4,000,000 was required for the first few years, for land purchase, immigration and cultural and public works.

Amid extraordinary enthusiasm, Justice Louis D. Brandeis (United States) was elected President of the Conference, and Dr. Max Nordau, Vice-President.

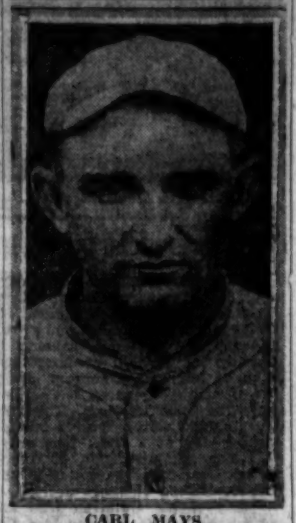
Carl Mays Hooted By Boston Fans



CARL MAYS

For the first time in the history of baseball in Boston, has a visiting player been the object of a demonstration such as was accorded Carl Mays, former Boston pitcher, on his first appearance as a member of the New York Yankees. The big pitcher drew a storm of hisses and hoots from the Boston crowd, and when he doffed his cap in derision, the volume of abuse increased. Mays was knocked out of the box by the Boston batters, and while en route to the showers was the recipient of catcalls and jeers which at times threatened to develop into something more serious. The Boston fans' animosity toward Mays is founded on the pitcher's desertion of the Red Sox last Summer and his refusal to remain in baseball except as a member of the Yankees.

Accounts Prove Prince Was Very Close To Death

(Reuter's Service)

Bridgetown, West Australia, July 7.—Details of the accident to the Prince of Wales' train show that it occurred on a sharp curve in the line, where the track had been softened by rain.

The first saloon to leave the line was that occupied by the Prince and members of his staff. The second was occupied by the Premier, Mr. Mitchell, and members of the State Government. The train was travelling at a slow pace.

The two saloons, after tearing up the track, rolled down the embankment on their sides.

WAS THROWN DOWN

The Prince was chatting with Rear-Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey and both were thrown heavily almost out of the window. All had miraculous escapes, being badly shaken but uninjured.

The Prince calmly stayed in the coach, collecting his papers, and declined to leave until everybody else had got out.

His Royal Highness then climbed actively through the roof, his appearance being signalised by a heart-felt outburst of cheering.

London, July 6.—The War Office announces that General Wrangel's cavalry has encircled a Bolshevik cavalry corps, consisting of eighteen regiments, which came under the concentrated fire of armored trains, troops and aeroplanes.

Only 150 men escaped. The battlefield was covered with enemy dead. A thousand prisoners, forty guns and many machine-guns and transports were taken.

The officer commanding the second Bolshevik cavalry corps, and his staff, were captured.

WITHDRAW MISSION

London, July 7.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Commander Kenworthy, Mr. Walter Long said that the British Naval Mission with General Wrangel was now withdrawing.

America and France, he said, still had naval representatives accredited to General Wrangel's force.

Replying to Sir Frederick Hall, Mr. Bonar Law said that he had read some of the reports, made by the Labor deputation which had recently returned from Russia, in which reference was made to terroristic Soviet methods, but the conclusions of the members did not appear to be unanimous and there was nothing in the reports calling for the suspension of negotiations with the Russian delegates, pending an independent Allied investigation, or for any other alteration in policy, as suggested.

REPORT CONFIRMED

Paris, July 8.—Polish official circles in Paris confirm the report of the capture by the Bolsheviks of Rovno, one of the three famous fortresses of West Russia.

the Conference should demand a reduction in the price of domestic coal by 14s. 2d. the amount which was recently added to the price; also an advance in wages of two shillings a day for workers over sixteen and of one shilling a day for those under sixteen.

It is estimated that these demands would entail an addition of thirty million pounds a year to the wages bill.

Pengkalan Durian Estate Hold Its Annual Meeting

The tenth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Pengkalan Durian Estate was held yesterday afternoon. Mr. L. E. Canning presided being supported by Mr. E. W. Noel and Mr. G. M. W. Hummel, directors and Mr. A. H. Hatherly representing the secretaries and agents who also acted as secretary to the meeting.

The shareholders present in person or by proxy represented 12,465 shares. The address of the Chairman was as follows:

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The report and accounts have been in your hands for the past week or so and I will with your permission take them as read.

I am pleased to be able to put before you, what your Directors consider, a satisfactory report when you take into consideration the prices that have ruled for rubber and the adverse rate of exchange at which all Shanghai Companies have received their remittances from the Straits.

Output: The output for the year fell short of the estimate by 8,617 lbs. due almost entirely to labor shortage. Ninety acres of young rubber were brought into the tapping rounds and this helped the output somewhat, but not sufficiently to make up for the dearth of labor.

Costs are higher this year due to the fact that all expenditure in connection with the tapping manufacture and shipping of rubber is included in the cost of production, also the whole of the general charges, whereas in previous years only 85 percent of apportionable expenditure was included. I am however pleased to state that the war tax rubber has been removed.

Thinning out has been carried on during the year under review but there is more yet to be done: it is in our opinion an urgent work and one of the greatest importance and so must be pushed on whenever labor is available.

Diseases and Pests: The Estate is very free from diseases. Brown Bust exists, of course, on our property as everywhere also but not on a serious scale.

Labor has fluctuated considerably during the year. Coolies are continually moving about and it is much more difficult as a consequence to build up and retain a permanent force.

Staff: Mr. Ure continued in the management of the Estate till January when a serious illness compelled him to go into hospital and he did not return to complete the period of his agreement which ended on April 30. The Estate owes much to his wholehearted efforts to keep it at all times in the best possible condition. He devoted unremitting labor to its welfare during a number of difficult years and while we place on record our appreciation of his services we deeply regret Mr. Ure was unable to renew his agreement, and we wish him a speedy return to good health.

Major Fitzwarine Smith was appointed manager in February. He comes to us with excellent credentials and we believe the Estate is being well administered by a manager in whom we have every confidence. The assistant, Mr. Thompson, unfortunately did not enjoy good health and he went on leave on the expiry of his agreement and we have now engaged Mr. P. Wyld in his place.

With regard to the future, your directors have authorised the agents to introduce the system of alternate days tapping. This conclusion is based on two grounds:

First, it has become plain, especially on the old producing estates, that more conservative methods of tapping are needed in order to prolong the period of productivity of the trees and secondly, the shortage of coolies, which, we are advised is not in the least likely to diminish for some time, as the labor force is reduced, sections of the estate can be tapped on alternate days and by this means it may be possible to avoid curtailing the necessary weeding, cultivating and thinning out programs.

The crop for the current year is estimated at 200,000 lbs. and I see no reason why this figure should not be obtained. Costs, however, I am afraid will be a little higher, which seems to be inevitable in any undertaking at the present time.

The accounts are presented in a perfectly clear manner and require no explanations from me. We have for disposal the sum of Tls. 12,837.27 and later I shall propose how this sum be dealt with. I have mentioned the services of Mr. Ure but I think it would be your wish that we tender to our agents in the Straits, Messrs. Parker and Co. Ltd. and to our secretaries, Messrs. J. P. Bisset and Co., our thanks for the care taken in looking after the interests of the Company.

With these few remarks I beg to propose:—

That the directors' report and statement of accounts for the twelve months ending March 31, 1920, as presented to shareholders be adopted.

After the adoption of the above resolution other resolutions adopted by the meeting were as follows:

"That the balance at the Credit of Profit and Loss Account of Taels 12,837.27 be appropriated as follows:—

	Tls.
To pay a dividend of Tls. 0.35 per share on 30,000 shares	10,500.00
To pay a bonus to the Manager	101.50
To carry forward	2,235.77
	Tls. 12,837.27

Proposed by L. E. Canning, seconded by G. M. W. Hummel.

"That the appointment of Mr. G. M. W. Hummel as Director of the Company is hereby confirmed."

Proposed by L. E. Canning, seconded by E. W. Noel.

"That Mr. L. E. Canning be re-elected a Director of the Company."

Proposed by E. W. Voel, seconded by G. M. W. Hummel.

"That Messrs. Lowe, Binghan and Matthews be re-elected Auditors to the Company for the ensuing financial year at a fee of Shanghai Taels Three hundred."

Proposed by K. H. Martin, seconded by Yih Chur-tong.

Hankow Market

FINANCE AND MONEY MARKET

The exchange market has been quiet during the week with little business on both sides of the book. Rates closed at 5/7⅜ T.T. and 5/7½ 4 m/s credits. Taels T.T. on Shanghai, were quoted at 96.6 Chinese market while Foreign Banks quoted 96.8 to 96.9. Dollars Chinese market were quoted at 70 buying and 70.2 selling. Native interest fell to 5 percent per annum but rose again towards the end of the week to 12 percent. Changshi Exchange Nominal.

EXPORTS

The demand from Europe seems to be improving from week to week, but the continued vagaries in Exchange make business very difficult. American values have dropped in line with the price of Silver, and there is nothing to do but wait until they recover. Tael prices are slightly weak. Except for a single purchase of Sesamum Seed and Wood Oil, there is little doing.

IMPORTS

There is little or no business passing and therefore no improvement in the very depressed Tael prices ruling. Shanghai Auctions, when demand is small, kill all chance of advance and dealers are not slow to advise merchants of this fact. In view of cost and exchange, prices in China just now are absurd and it is impossible to do business.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only when if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LEFFA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
A. F. PEELER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARDEE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children, in fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Cotton Market

Messrs. J. Spunt and Co., write as follows in their report dated July 10:

China Cotton.—Very little business was registered during the past week under review. Prices continued steady during the early part of the week and at the close a slight upward tendency is evinced bouyed up as it were by the progressive strengthening signs in the Yarn market coupled with the not very bright Indian Crop reports.

In a major portion of the Cotton growing districts the weather continues favorable towards a satisfactory crop this season, except in the Siho district, where the atmospheric aridity has lasted too long to permit of as successful results as during the previous season. However, owing to the heavy-carry over in that district there need be no apprehension as to the ultimate quantity generally produced therein.

Taking a comprehensive view of the world's cotton growth at this stage there is nothing looming up prominently in its horizon that would discount to any great extent the outlook for firmer rates the moment the textile industries commence replenishing their usual requirements. Tone of the market. Steady.

Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows in their report dated July 9:

China Cotton.—Since our last week's circular, in which we advised conservative operations, the market has not experienced any advances of consequence, fluctuations being chiefly due to speculators.

Aside from the local speculative features, the chief development of the week has been the cheery weather reports throughout the principal cotton growing centers. With the exception of Shantung and Chihli Provinces, the outlook is bright. Unless the condition should change materially, we see no reason for a permanent improvement in prices, and while it may take some time before the tide will turn, our advice is to take advantage of the market and sell.

Japan:—We have no doubt the following report dated June 25, will be of great interest to the trade:

Stock of Cotton undelivered, unsold and warehoused in:

Kobe	361,536	Bales
Osaka	185,658	„
Yokohama	7,624	„
	554,818	„

American Crop:—The latest advices to hand are concurrent crop improvements. The Government report is very encouraging indeed. The condition of the growing crop is 71 percent of the normal crop, and the outlook indicates 11,500,000 bales.

Indian Crop:—Progressing favorably. Good showers will be very helpful.

Yarn:—The market during the past week has been firm. Both spot and forward positions have appreciated considerably. Some 30,000 bales of all chops of local products have been booked. Deliveries for Yarn and Cloth are quite brisk, and considering the unusual time of the year, July-August being the slack months of the season, both for new business and deliveries, the situation can only be summed up as phenomenal. It has been reported that 6,000 bales of various counts and chops of local products have been bought up for shipment to India.

Sampin:—Has been in the steady upward trend and, from recent telegraphic advices from Japan, conditions generally are looming up and the future prospects are more than encouraging.

WEATHER

The typhoon is likely threatening Formosa and the Meiaco-Sima. Monsoon to the North of the 30th parallel. Changeable winds further South. Fine weather; local thunderstorms.

Why The Delay?

PROCRASTINATING Germany, deservedly or not, is receiving a minimum of sympathy at the hands of the Allied Peace Commissioners, assembled in conference at Spa.

First off, Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, in an authorised interview, stated that the Germans "would not be permitted in any way to discuss the merits of the Peace Treaty;" that they would merely be allowed to discuss the method of carrying out the provisions of that document.

On top of this, answering the plea of the German general, Von Seeckt, for fifteen months' time in which to surrender war material and reduce effectives (armed forces), the doughty British Premier has declared that it was "beyond comprehension" that "any Government" would tolerate such a military situation as exists today in Germany; where, he said, there were several millions of rifles still remaining in the hands, not only of the soldiers but of the population, to say nothing of the fact that there were a million armed and uniformed men roaming the German territories, and thousands of machine guns, trench mortars and other weapons sequestered.

"The Allies," stated Mr. Lloyd George, with commendable emphasis, "could not permit a prolongation of that situation for another fifteen months: it must be settled by a vigorous effort in the shortest possible time!"

There is little doubt that Germany is going to take advantage of every excuse—every subterfuge—which will help to postpone the dread day of disarmament. Shorn of her once-majestic and powerful navy, and her military establishment pared to the very minimum necessary to maintain law and order, Germania sees herself almost powerless, whereas she was once so powerful.

And there is another Ethiopian lurking deep in the Teutonic wood-pile, behind the Peace Treaty barn. The Russian Bolsheviki goaded into action against poor little war-torn Poland by ill-advised diplomacy on the part of the Allies, now bid fair to ravish once more the oft-ravished land of Kosciusko and Paderewski, and, sweeping over her, to reach a point from which they might easily amalgamate with the remnants of the Imperial German "Freikorps" and give the world another rude shock.

Isn't it entirely possible that the shrewd Treaty Commissioners of Germany may be watching the advance of the "Red" armies against the Poles with particularly interested eyes; and possibly hoping against hope that disarmament may be postponed until the half-tamed hordes of Lenin and Trotsky shall have reached that strategic point, and until some "secret agreement" can be made with the Soviet leaders looking to a prolongation of world conflict?

In any case, it seems that the attitude taken by Premier Lloyd George and the other Allied Peace Commissioners, on the subject of Germany's rapid disarmament, may not be as pitiless and as wilfully uncompromising as the Germans would have us believe. It may simply be an effort to save the world, only just recovering from grievous wounds from the horrors and terrors of another international cataclysm.

TATTNELL'S REMARK

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir:—In your report of the Independence Day celebration at the American Club you speak of "Tattnall's" famous "Blood is thicker than water," and of "Tattnell's famous epigram."

It seems a good opportunity to point out what many of your readers may not know, that though the Admiral made the expression famous by nobly acting on it, the phrase itself was not his. Where it first occurs in literature I do not know, not having the "Oxford Dictionary" to refer to; but it is to be found in one of Scott's novels, written some fifty years before the Second War wih China.

What the phrase means exactly is difficult to see; what blood and what water? Molasses is thicker than ginger ale, but that does not seem very inspired or inspiring. The gallantry of Tattnall's action was splendid, but the phrase seems inadequate. Yours, etc.,

X.

A Modern Aladdin

"Sir Philip Sassoon had just said good-bye to M. Millerand and his French entourage and was walking briskly down the long boat train platform at Folkestone Harbor with Mr. Philip Kerr when we met," says a special correspondent of the Daily Mail.

"'Your impressions of your week-end visitors, I demanded.

"His dark aquiline features lighted up with a boyish smile. 'Not a word,' he responded gaily, 'and,' he added, 'don't say a word about myself or my house and I will bless you for evermore!'

"Despite the implications of this invocation I am bound to say something about this extraordinary young man who has been entertaining the Premiers, Chancellors, and Ambassadors of France and Britain at his villa at Belcaire at Lympne. He has been the one really interesting feature of the Conference—a silent figure standing out in sharp contrast against the background of British politicians and their secretaries.

A LUCKY YOUNG MAN

"Sir Philip Sassoon, third baronet, and owner of Belcaire, is one of the lucky young men of the day. Great wealth and many friends were bequeathed to him by his grandfather, the Bombay merchant prince, and his father, Sir Edward Sassoon, known universally as 'the friend of King Edward.' His only sister, who has been helping him to entertain the Premiers, is married to the Earl of Rocksvage, eldest son of the Marquis of Cholmondeley. He is thirty-one, healthy, happy, and unmarried. Being both host and servant of his guests, owner of the house, and private secretary to the Premier, he has busied himself with the affairs to Belcaire, seeing to the comforts of the table and the contents of the cellar, and arranging rooms for the sub-conferences between Chancellors, Ambassadors, and secretaries which have been a feature of this 'private talk' in his villa.

"When the Conference members have been weary he has refreshed them with the music of the gramphone, the play of a kinema, and excursions in three of his five Rolls-Royce cars. In truth a very pleasant and agreeable young man. Aladdin and his wonderful lamp are an inevitable comparison. The owner of Belcaire has only to wish for a thing and, lo! it comes.

"At 24 he inherited a seat in Parliament. At 27 he became private secretary to Sir Douglas Haig—a very efficient secretary, speaking nine languages. At 31 he is private secretary to the Prime Minister and in the running for Cabinet honors and a probable peerage.

"Sport, indeed, plays a great part in his life. He loves exercise and has all the desire to excel in many games. Thus you may see him in the morning wearing running shorts and sprinting round his estate. In the afternoon he is playing lawn tennis upon his superb court with a professional coach from a famous London club. In the evening he plays billiards, and if there is no guest in the house his opponent will be another professional coach.

A ROMAN STYLE BATH

"Swimming is with him a passion rather than a pastime. He has constructed a delightful open-air bath at Belcaire in the Roman fashion, and swims for exercise as well as the pleasure of a plunge. Within doors he indulges in the same delight in bathing, and his mosaic-lined bath-rooms, with their variety of shower baths, are a joy to himself and his guests.

"Belcaire and the estate which surrounds it are still unfinished. The war checked the development of the place, and 50 to 60 workmen and laborers are now busy making a veritable pleasaunce out of this old seaside cliff now separated from the sea by miles of Romney Marsh. Two new drives are being made, one of which runs for half a mile under the cliff parallel with the public road. The other is a short and steep descent direct to the house.

"Approached from the east, the place has the appearance of an old manor house in well-toned red brick. From the south, where it looks out to the Channel, it is Italian, with a terrace and loggia where the Premiers have been walking and discussing when tired of the magnificence of an Oriental interior or anxious to breathe the sweet airs which come over the green marshland from the Channel."

Travelling from London to Birmingham about this time last year, I got into conversation with a fine old soldier who had never risen above the rank of private. He had a good deal to say about men and things, but when it came to the Prince's turn the old Tommy said:

"Well I don't care if he is a Prince, he is a brave boy!"

When, visiting one of the mining camps "Down Under" one of the miners approached the Prince and said:

"Sir, the fellows bet me that you won't give me a cigarette."

"You win," said the smiling heir-apparent, as he offered the miner his case.

Have you ever noticed how interesting the advertisements are? Read them. The number of cool spots advertised in town are many, the number of dry spots are few. The picture people bring their wares prominently before the public. At present their wares seem to be chiefly girls. One house comes out boldly with "Girls, girls, girls, plenty of them." They even differentiate between them. Pretty girls, slender girls, fat girls and voluptuous girls. But you look in vain for good girls. Then you get "The Woman God Forgot." Leyland Hodgson comes along with "The Spa Girls" and "Rosebuds" and "Have a Nibble." The only picture about man is at the Isis "Sins of Men."

It is said that you can send a boy to college but you can't make him think and that reminds me:

Two navvies were arguing on education of the present day.

One was of opinion that it was practically no use, the other that it was of the greatest value.

"Look at my boy Jack," he said, "he can answer any question you like to ask him. Here he comes bringing my dinner. You ask him anything you like."

"Jack," said the other, "your father tells me you are getting on well at school. How many are seven and four?"

"Twelve," was the prompt reply.

"There you are," said the proud father, "right, within one, first blooming guess."

Easy Divorce Laws Opposed

Famous British Priest Deplores Tendency To 'Legalise Polygamy'

By FATHER BERNARD VAUGHAN

London, May 21.—I am generally counted an optimist, but I am frankly dismayed by the march of events in my dear country, and more especially am I scandalised by the new Divorce bill, which has just passed its second reading in the House of Lords.

The bill will legalise polygamy. The clause which gives any husband or wife the right to divorce and remarriage after three years' separation, or desertion, can be interpreted in no other way. It simply becomes a question to be arranged between the parties when they happen to become tired of one another.

What chance will the plain looking, penniless woman get of re-marriage? Her last state will be worse than her first.

I am equally horrified by the clause which gives husbands and wives on a lower rung of the social ladder the right to apply for a divorce after two years' separation on a police court order, and by the proposal that judges should be allowed to call for the suppression of evidence in divorce cases.

This last will mean that many cases will be heard in secret, which will naturally increase the moral laxity that is growing apace in England today.

'NO LONGER CHRISTIAN'

No longer is England in any clearly defined sense a Christian country. It has passed that milestone on life's journey to the beyond. Having given up the Divine Teacher, logically enough it is now giving up the Divine Teaching.

Catholics, of course, hold that a valid marriage can be divorced only by death. With us marriage is something more than a natural contract. It is more than a Divine institution, for it has been raised by the Founder of Christianity to a sacrament. Hence all divorce laws, no matter what their sanction, to us are no more than "a scrap of paper."

But you will ask me what I think of these divorce facilities, not as a Catholic, but as a citizen. As an Englishman, I think they are as deplorable as any other change from Christianity to paganism. Pained I was to read what the Lord Chancellor has had to say about the marriage tie. Surely he was giving his opinion about it as Mr. Smith and not as the Lord High Chancellor of England! I should like His Lordship to meet the Lord High Chancellor, Sir Thomas More, venturing the statement that the supporters of indissolubility "belong to another world," and that the arguments in support of it were "whisperings of the abandoned superstitions of the Middle Ages."

If the teaching of Christ on this overwhelmingly grave subject is a mere "superstition," then the sooner the Sermon on the Mount is confined to the pages of our fairy tale books the better for all of us.

DO PEOPLE WANT POLYGAMY?

When I peruse what some of my countrymen say and write, I cannot help pausing to ask myself: "Have they as citizens weighed fully the consequences that must follow upon opening wide the doors of the Divorce Court in their country?" Does it not mean exchanging monogamy for polygamy? Does it not mean weakening of character? And does it not mean breaking up the home of England on which, as our high-principled King has reminded us, the glory of our Empire rests?

I know I shall be told that the country will no longer tolerate the illegitimacy of children born out of wedlock, that very soon we shall demand no marriage ceremonies at all, and that during the short day of life spent on this planet people must live together only till they agree to part, or till they find more congenial companionship. In fact it looks as if in the near future it will become easier to get divorced than to get married.

It is argued that every woman has a right to motherhood, and that unless she has indulged that right she knows nothing of the happiness of life. And today it is asserted quite openly that for man and woman to live together when the love for one or other has fastened elsewhere becomes gross immorality.

Whither is our country in this twentieth century drifting? It seems to me that we are like a ship that has dropped pilot, flung overboard compass, and torn up chart. We are drifting on to the rocks where disaster sure and sad awaits our storm-tossed bark.

My pleading cry to my country is, tighten the marriage ties, do not loosen them; build up the human character, do not tear it down; strengthen the foundations of the home, do not weaken them. Dare not license what God forbids, venture not to sanction adultery and bless polygamy. Lift up the marriage state into heaven, do not drag it down into hell. Make England the land of homes. Help to Christianise, not to paganise, our nation.

Let England perish outright rather than be turned into a stock-yard, dying of suicidal corruption.

Do You Know What Is Going On In Ireland?

"Not one citizen in a thousand amongst us has any real conception of what is going on within a few miles from our shores, in a land supposed to form an integral part of our civilised realm. Far and wide there is red ruin and the breaking up of laws. The rage of anarchy has no parallel in Europe outside Bolshevist Russia. The cohesion of civilised society is dissolved. Its basis is shattered. All security for life and property has vanished."

So says the Observer, and it draws a remarkable picture of what is happening and of what must be done to end it.

"Assassination strikes and no assassin is brought to justice. Land is commandeered, cut up and redistributed, just as though law and settled title did not exist. Herds are seized or scattered in the same way. The police are under an atmosphere of espionage which envelops their lives and that of their families, and death is the penalty of their own courage and vigilance. If they show zeal in inquiry or competence in action, they are marked men, and too many have already proved doomed men. The railways, posts and telegraphs are all unsafe. Secret tribunals decree killing and confiscation. Murder stalks in broad day and lurks in darkness, and the night is lit with buildings burned down," says the Observer.

REFUGEES FROM IRELAND

"In the last few weeks the terror has entered on a new phase. The position of the Southern loyalists has become finally unbearable. Their women and children are arriving in England like Russian refugees. Bitterly they feel that they have been abandoned, because they are scattered and helpless, while the Ulster Unionists have been protected because they are massed and strong. In the last few days police barracks have been fired all over the country, Government offices have been sacked, income-tax papers and other records have been looted. By a fatal act of provocation, the extremists are now carrying their outrages into Ulster. It is becoming hard to restrain the Covenanters from taking into their own hands a law against lawlessness. If the Sinn Fein anarchy goes one step further in the north-east the Covenanters themselves will crush it at any cost.

"This in some ways is the saddest aspect of the whole hideous tangle. The Sinn Feiners cry out against partition. They have done it. With their own hands they have torn Ireland clean asunder like paper or canvas. If they continue they may make the breach for ever irremediable. It is the policy of Britain, which is working for Irish unity—working for it by the slow, gradual, and voluntary means which are now the only means on earth of bringing about some ultimate reconciliation. It is the policy of extreme Nationalist Irishmen themselves which is madly seeking to destroy the last hope of any Irish unity. Between the two hostile areas, sections, and creeds the gulf of open hatred now flows broader and broader.

END IT OR WITHDRAW

"Whatever else happens matters cannot be allowed to go on like this—not for another avoidable week or day," adds the Observer. "The British Government must either do its plain duty or withdraw. It is absolutely bound to protect all law-abiding citizens or go. This, we think, is now clear to the Cabinet. The only question is by what practical means the protection of law is to be restored to elementary efficiency in Ireland. We must realise that throughout the larger part of the country British Government has quite disappeared.

"Puzzled people sometimes throw up their hands and say that the problem is insoluble. This is as absurd as contemptible. It is in the first place a practical affair—a matter of organisation and resource. In some ways it is like the most deadly and novel of the difficulties which had to be surmounted in the war. Ireland swarms with outrage and assassination as the sea swarmed with German submarines. It is imbecile to suggest that brain and fibre and invention cannot cope with terrorism on land. It is an ugly and awkward and miserable business, but it must be done.

THE MILITARY POLICY

"The military policy which might be adopted is plain enough. Ireland could be divided for this purpose into new administrative areas, with careful attention to the conditions as regards railways and roads. The police and the troops must work in concert. Small groups of men in isolated positions must be withdrawn. In every area where murder and outrage require to be efficiently combated and pursued there would have to be a strategical center. Fast motor-squadrons stationed at these centers ought to be of the utmost mobility and able to reach any part of a given area with instant speed.

"There is talk of 'blockhouses.' They may be required or not, but they will not do the work. Nothing will do it on military lines but armed mobility organised with all thoroughness and decision. The use of 'wireless' and aeroplanes, we suppose, would be an essential adjunct. A chain of signal stations could be run through Ireland so that every strategical center would be in the closest touch with others. Large rewards would have to be offered for the detection of crime and criminals. This, would be the military policy.

"As a technical means we cannot doubt that Sir Nevil Macready could make it a success by determination and ingenuity. But it is obviously a course that would involve some political disadvantages at home and abroad. The Cabinet cannot be deterred by these disadvantages from discharging the primary obligation of any civilised Government, but it must face in advance all drawbacks.

THE ECONOMIC BOYCOTT

"A different suggestion urges a maritime and economic policy. A cordon would be drawn across Ireland between that large part of the north—even outside the six counties—which can easily be made almost immune from outrage, and the rest of the country where anarchy seethes. All troops and police would be withdrawn from that part of Ireland which Sinn Fein claims to control. The chief coast towns and harbors would, of course, be held by the Government, but the interior would simply be left to itself. Sinn Feiners would be warned that after a certain date the logic of their challenge would be accepted. They would be ignored by Britain until they came to a better mind.

"No revenue would be distributed either for old-age pensions, education, or anything else. British trade with the Sinn Fein part of Ireland would be suspended. There would be no coal. The railways would have to stop. Many who know Ireland think that this administrative boycott would have an immense effect—that it would have a quiet, dull, sobering power with which the excitement and drama of the military policy could not compare. It would be a hateful resort to have to employ, but it would be better than the murder, outrage, terrorism which prevail now, and are destroying every moral hope for any better future in Ireland. Some means must be found to make Sinn Fein sick of its own anarchy and to cause the vast majority of Irish Nationalists to turn against it.

LET UTTERANCE BE FREE

"The plight of the southern loyalists is, of course, the worst, but the benefit of any measures in their favor should be extended to all moderate men. There is no reason why they should not be allowed temporarily to withdraw from the country on terms of full compensation for their abandoned property and businesses.

"But whatever drastic methods may be adopted to put down the terror in Ireland, there must be no more blundering and confusion in administration, and no halting or weakness or wobbling in the constructive and reconciling purposes which are clearly and patiently aimed at in the Home Rule Bill. Administration must war with th whole force and resource of the law upon criminal outrage, but must cease to make war on opinion. Opinion and outrage must be radically distinguished in the way for which we have long appealed.

"Let thought and utterance, however mischievous, be as free as the very air. Let Sinn Fein extremists and all others talk sedition, write it, chant it, flaunt it to the very top of their bent. They would only be weakened by unlimited expression. They will not have half the appetite for indulging in it when the false glamor of heroic defiance is taken away.

"Above all, the Home Rule Bill must be put on the Statute Book with all speed. 'Home Rule must be started at the other end.'

"If opinion remains free while actual outrage is crushed with unsparing energy and the Home Rule Bill stands as an accomplished, irrevocable fact on the Statute Book, a wave of reason will follow the wave of crime."

CIVIL WAR!

"We do not see how the conditions can possibly be so changed as long as England consents to remain the responsible arbiter of Ireland's destiny," says the New Statesman. "Only by withdrawal can we force Irishmen to face the facts of their own situation. The Sinn Feiners, for example, are making a claim which they could not possibly sustain if Dublin Castle were to cease to exist. They know perfectly well that if the British Government were to grant tomorrow, sans phrase, their full demand for an independent Republic for the whole of Ireland and were forthwith to withdraw its troops, they would have no power to establish or work such a Republic; they would instantly be confronted with the prospect of a Civil War in which they would have no reasonable hope of success.

"To that extent their program and their propaganda are a bluff, and it is a bluff that should be called, in order not merely that the outside world, but that they themselves, should be forced to realise the true position."

"One leads where many follow."

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper

is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Avoid disappointment by refusing substitutes which do not possess its advantages.

Speeches Of Fuller Durham -:- By 'Bugs' Baer

Impassioned Squeak To The Out-On-Bail Order Of Auto Gypers

In publishing the post-tiffin moans of Fuller Durham, the greatest after-dinner squawker who ever swallowed a camel steak and choked on a gnat cutlet, we do so with the idea of hyping the public up to the Hon. Durham's standard of laryngeal efficiency and maxillary hokum. We are placing our wares before the public in this manner in order to eliminate the middleman's profit. It is far superior to the correspondence school method, because even our clients who can read and write will not be affected by a strike of letter carriers.

Just a word about Fuller's system. He did not reach that dizzy pinnacle at the top of America's after-dessert shillabers without many heart throbs and aching disappointments. Just when he was on the boulevard to success as an after-dinner barker along wheels Herbie Hoover and eliminates the menu from the dinner. For three long, lean, hungry years Durham was merely an after speaker, the dinner having been eliminated from the tournament.

But merit will tell, and now Durham is eating double-headers in order to catch up to his delinquent schedule.

His life has not always been an Ostermoor of roses, nor a boulevard strewn with sunshine and joy, bottled or otherwise. Many a guy has walked out on Durham right when he was reaching the Seventh Heaven of Bunkum in his hestic appeal to the gastronomical jury. But, then, as the Hon. asserts, he still has a clean record. They may walk out on him, but they never die in the house. For sale at all druggists.

Durham's methods are almost kindergartenish in their simplicity. He is a spontaneous erupter like a twelve-ball roman candle. He rises without thinking of what he is going to say and continues along those lines to the end of his speech.

Naturally, such a system gets him into many international jams.

F'r instance, when speaking at the nosebag given to the Right Honorable Bass Ayle, envoy extraordinary from Great Britain to the Bronx and minister plentypenitentiary to the high rent districts, Fuller rose plumb up on his rear arches and referred to the Tight Little Isle as the "land of stout hearts and stouter heads."

The Right Honorable objected to the stouter head stuff and hung a moth embroidered pork chop on Durham's mansard roof. He followed up his tactical advantage with a Right Honorable to Durham's bashful chin which peeps out from among his whiskers like a blushing violet. In the language of flowers, Fuller's beak is like unto the red, red rose.

The Right Honorable flattened Fuller like the south side of a turtle, but he rose from among the ruins like a second Carthage or the phoenix from the ashes of the fire insurance, and hung a Left Honorable on the Righ Honorable's waffle that gave all the secretaries and under-secretaries in the British diplomuttic service a chance to take one more step up on the ladder.

But to waddle back to his speech to the auto magicians.

He said:

"I wish to state to all the gentlemen who are present among this vast assemblage—(HOW ABOUT YOURSELF, MR. DUFFY?)—that, unaccustomed as I am to public speaking—(YOU TELL 'EM, I'LL HOLD BACK THE CROWD)—that I am proud to stand before the Amalgamated Association of Motor Car Gypers and compliment them on the splendid work they are doing to alleviate the suffering among pedestrians and other former Republican office holders. (HE'S OFF AGAIN. BRING ME TWO MORE DINNERS.)

"The motor car is a menace to pedestrians. The auto gypers are doing their best to remove that menace. (GO INTO YOUR DANCE, THEY'RE WALKING OUT ON YOU).

"The motor brigands are removing that menace. They are removing the menace of the Roolls-Royce, they are removing the menace of the flivver — (THAT AIN'T A MENACE, IT'S A TIN DISEASE) —they are eliminating slowly but surely the vast numbers—(ON THE ENGINE?)—of recklessly driven — (AND RECKLESSLY PARKED)—motor cars which are a splinter under the thumbnail of civilisation and Democratic administrations. (ONE MINUTE INTERMISSION TO CHANGE NEEDLES).

"Fellow citizens—(SIT DOWN AND BE A CITIZEN YOURSELF) —it ill behooves me at a time like this—(CRANK THE FLIVVER PAPA, BABY WANTS ITS RATTLE)—

"I would like to know who is making this speech? (NOBODY).

(ONE WORD LED TO ANOTHER AND HE FINALLY PUNCHED HER ON THE BEEZER).

"Gentlemen——"

(THAT LETS YOU OUT).

"Friends"——

(THEY LEFT THE COURT-ROOM ARM IN ARM).

"Thieves and highwaymen—(WHAT HAVE I DONE TO DESERVE THIS PROMOTION)—can I have a little silence?"

(WE GAVE YOU SOME SILENCE THE LAST TIME AND YOU SPOILED IT).

"Out-on-bailers, this happy occasion reminds me of a little story—(HEY, A MAN WHO WEARS SUSPENDER BUCKLES IS FOOLISH TO SLEEP ON HIS BACK).

"Once upon a time, during the reign of the good King Impuff—(M'GUFFY'S FOURTH READER) —there was a beautiful missing princess by the name of—(GROVER BERGDOLL)—he is no princess—(YES, BUT HE'S MISSING)—who loved—(THE CALIFORNIA BLUEBEARD) — who loved a knight by the name of—(ADENOIDS)—by the name of Dandruffo. For the love of this fair lady, Dandruffo suffered great hardships. He was banished Impuff and slept on the ground and ate weeds.

(SLEEPING ON THE GROUND AND EATING WEEDS AIN'T NO HARDSHIP. THAT'S HAVING BREAKFAST IN BED).

"Gentlemen"——

(LET HIM SPEAK. I WAS ALMOST ASLEEP).

(TELL HIM TO CHECK HIS CHATTER AT THE DOOR WITH HIS HAT).

(HE'D NEVER GET IT BACK. HE ALWAYS COPS SOME OTHER GUY'S HAT).

(THROW HIM OUT. HE JUST SPOILED THE BEST NIGHTMARE I EVER HAD).

(HOW IS IT THAT I ONLY GOT THREE OLIVES AND THAT GUY HAS SEVENTEEN PUT ON HIS PLATE?)

(AW, LET HIM TALK AND GET IT OFF HIS CHEST).

(IT AIN'T HIS CHEST. IT'S HIS LIVER).

(SHUT UP).

"I refuse to shut up and I am as good as any man who ever snubbed a cigar butt off the ground—(OH! SAY, CAN YOU SEE, DEE, DEE, DEE, DUM DEE? DUM, DUMM, DUM, DEE DUMM, DUMPTY DEE DUMM DUMM, DUMM, DUMM, DUMM).

"Gentlemen, I will now draw our remarks to a close, as I see that they are starting to pass around the soup tureen for the waiters, and I do not like soup—(WE'LL MAKE IT A COFFEE SAUCER)—I never drink out of a saucer—(HOW ABOUT THE SUCCOTASH BOWL?)—that always gives me indigestion.

PASS AROUND THE THIMBLE FOR THAT GUY'S TIP).

THAT HEAD WOULD FOOL ANY WOODPECKER).

(HE'S GOT ALL HIS COMPLEXION RIGHT ON HIS NOSE).

"In conclusion, I thank you gentlemen for your kind attention."

The Honorable Durham's next speech will be the historic roar he established at the convention of Professional Pall Bearers, Utica, N. Y.

The 'Weeping Willow'

It is recorded that about the year 1748 a resident at Twickenham, England, planted a "weeping willow" tree which had been sent to him from the River Euphrates. Western Asia. The tree flourished and subsequently it became the custom to plant it in cemeteries owing to the graceful droop of its branches. There is a legend to the effect that this was the tree upon which the exiled Jews hung their harps as they sat down and wept by the waters of Babylon, and that it was the weight of their harps that first caused the boughs to droop.

Anecdotes Of The Famous

It is recorded that at an entertainment at which Gainsborough and the famous actor, David Garrick, were present an ardent admirer of the great artist declared that Gainsborough never had failed to take a person's likeness in a portrait, no matter how difficult the subject might be. Garrick thereupon asserted that Gainsborough could not paint his likeness and begged to be allowed to sit for his portrait. Gainsborough, pleased at the commission and expecting to find it very interesting to paint the actor's expressive countenance, gladly consented. Garrick then made a secret wager with the artist's friends that he could prove to them that there was one face at least that Gainsborough could not paint.

The results of the first sitting were very satisfactory to the complacent artist. At the second sitting, however, Gainsborough was made uncomfortable and nervous at finding it necessary to make several alterations in his work. At the third sitting his displeasure became extreme, when, on comparing the half-completed work with Garrick's face, he saw that the two bore so little resemblance to each other that the portrait almost had to be repainted. When Garrick appeared for the fourth time, with the most innocent expression imaginable, and begged the painter to begin work, Gainsborough, thoroughly angry, broke out:

"I've no use for you! You can ape thousands of faces and never have one of your own!"

Garrick left the studio smiling to announce to the artist's friends that he had won the wager.
